

SENATOR TILLMAN MUCH IMPROVED

Strong Hope Now Entertained for Recovery of North Carolinian.

Strong hope is entertained today for the ultimate recovery of Senator Tillman.

His condition is much improved, and his physicians and friends believe he has an even chance to get well. If not entirely well, they believe that he will at least recover all of his faculties and enough of his former strength to allow him to engage in some of his former activities.

At 11 o'clock this morning the Senator's physicians gave out a most optimistic bulletin. It said: "Senator Tillman continues to improve. Paralysis is much less than yesterday. His mind is very clear and memory excellent. Outlook more encouraging than at any time since his illness began."

When the Senator suffered the stroke less than a week ago and lost his speech as well as the use of one side of his body, it was feared that he would never be able to articulate again even though he recovered the use of the remainder of his body. Yesterday, however, he surprised his physicians and family by speaking clearly and vigorously. Today his inclination is to talk still more but his physicians have forbidden him to speak any more than is absolutely necessary.

The announcement was made at Senator Tillman's office today that the patient passed a most favorable and encouraging night last night, and that he slept well and appeared to be in excellent spirits this morning. This condition has led all the Senator's friends to hope for the best results, and has encouraged them to believe that his recovery is more than probable.

SENATOR SMITH GAINS STRENGTH

Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, who is at the Homeopathic Hospital, is reported to be doing well today, and is improving rapidly.

The Senator was operated on for appendicitis Saturday last.

PERKINS' CONDITION STILL IMPROVING

James Breck Perkins, Republican member of Congress from Rochester, N. Y., is ill at Garfield Hospital, suffering from a bladder trouble.

When he was taken to the hospital last week it was thought an operation would be necessary to save his life, but on Saturday his condition slightly improved and he was still better on yesterday. Today it is reported he is even better than he was yesterday and his physicians say they think it will not be necessary to resort to the knife. Their main concern at present, they say, is to keep Mr. Perkins from worrying about the business of the House of Representatives.

NAMER OF AMERICA MAY BE HONORED

That the memory of the man who named this country America be perpetuated by the erection of his statue and the creation of a park on Governors Island, N. Y., is the suggestion made in a letter received today by President Taft from Heinrich Charles, president of the Saint Die Society of New York city.

The colon of the word "America" was Mathias Ringman, an Alsatian poet, who died at Strasbourg in 1911. It was while he was in the city of Saint Die, France, in 1492, according to the chronicles of the Saint Die Society, that he first applied the name America to the new world.

In his letter to the President, Mr. Charles says that M. Camille Steib, mayor of Saint Die, declares that city stands ready to co-operate in any American movement in the direction suggested.

MILLINERY OPENING SHOWS NEW STYLES

Turban Promises to Be Unusually Popular During Coming Season.

By SELENE ARMSTRONG.

Spring styles, as shown today in the display of turbans and hats at the millinery opening of the Palais Royal, are considered more attractive than for many seasons.

The turban is popular. It is seen gayly bedecked in flowers, or made of one of the severely simple straws untrimmed except for a flange of velvet about the rolled brim, or some other simple ornamentation. In the larger hats effects are obtained by the use of quantities of net and chiffon, which frequently well wreaths of bright colored roses that cover the crown of the chapeau. Swirls of chiffon or clouds of soft net, plaited or gathered, give to these hats a youthful effect which is expected to make them popular with both maid and matron.

One of the most charming of the models seen with velled trimming is a large black leghorn picture hat. Its crown is covered with a mass of pink roses, softened by masses of fine black silk net which are plaited over the crown and on the broad brim.

Flowers are used in quantities on both turbans and picture hats, all of which are high at the back, with trimming massed there. Ostrich plumes are also exceedingly popular, and the French head plumes, or short, thick, heavily curled feathers, are in demand.

In the suit department of the large store, the busy scenes in the millinery department were being repeated.

The newest tendencies, as observed in the Palais Royal display of spring suits, are short coats, the popularity of the Russian blouse, a variety of style which admits of either elaborate trimming or extreme simplicity, and the predominance of soft grays among the new colors.

The materials of which the smart suits are made are serges in neutral colors, sharkskin, a coarse weave not unlike diagonal cloth, and the use of menish suitings.
